Dear Bay Area News Group,

I am pleased to announce a solution I have created for addressing attacks on the freedom of the press. Your business may now receive the service of a customized report identifying every employee who has broken the law during the time of their employment with your company, as well as who has accepted bribes from politicians, the amount of money they were bribed with, and what the bribe was for. The reports are customized based on the level of information that you seek; however these reports are no substitute for any police investigation, but instead a preliminary sweep to discover where police investigations are needed.

All reports include an anonymous census with statistical information on the percentages of employees committing crimes while employed by the company based on the current year, which laws were broken and the dates of the crimes. The criminal screens are limited to felonies only. The method of identifying employees who have committed crimes or accepted bribes is with their date of birth.

Please see the enclosed business proposal to review the service I am offering at an affordable cost.

Best regards,

Chelsea Wright
