Dear Catalyst clients,

I did not muscle-test if my most favorite book in the world, I Ching: Oracle of the Cosmic Way was a product of plagiarism because I knew it would break my heart. I did not want to lose respect for Carol Anthony and Hanna Moog. And, I did not want to add another expose to my recommended reading webpage because I didn't want it to take on the tone of Santa's naughty list. Tonight I found the will to face the truth, and I muscle-tested if Carol Anthony and Hanna Moog were the authors of I Ching: Oracle of the Cosmic Way. I discovered that these two women contributed less than 10% of the content of the book. Carol Anthony is an NSA agent. Hanna Moog is an FBI agent. They provide workshops teaching the principles found in this book, which is a product of surveillance abuse.

I do not revoke this book from recommended reading because there is too much good in it. I would add a word of caution that this book mentions a few times that the only way to deprogram social conditioning is as they have described, and that is not true. Any time a person says "my way is the only correct way," their ego has gotten involved.

There are a couple people who generated the original vibrational content found in I Ching: Oracle of the Cosmic Way. Their cultivation of mindfulness was harvested through surveillance abuse and compiled by the FBI into this book. You would be very shocked to find out how much the FBI has researched chakras and the human frequency grid, and how the energetic connections can be manipulated to perpetrate trauma-based mind control on the masses.

All the people who have read I Ching: Oracle of the Cosmic Way and resonated with the vibrational content, their hearts singing, "Hey! That's my truth too!" energetically reached out to the sources of the original content, only to be re-routed to the plagiarists, and this created adhesions akin to knots in the gridlines. This can be addressed without violating the privacy of the people who generated the vibrational content of the book. A simple prayer to the Cosmos asking for your relationships to the people who cultivated the awareness that is expressed within this book to be restored should suffice.

Sincerely,

Chelsea Wright
